About the Crime and Justice Institute at Community Resources for Justice

Community Resources for Justice is home to the Crime and Justice Institute (CJI) which offers a team of experts who provide nonpartisan consulting, policy analysis, and research services to improve public safety in communities throughout the country. CJI develops and promotes evidence based practices which inform practitioners and policymakers, including corrections officials, police, courts, and political and community leaders to assist them in making criminal and juvenile justice systems more efficient and cost-effective to promote accountability for achieving better results. For more information about CJI, please visit www.crj.org/cji.

Realignment Strategic Planning Process Overview

In the fall of 2013, the Yolo County contracted with the Crime and Justice Institute (CJI) to conduct three technical assistance tasks, including a brief review of realignment plans from other similar California counties, an evaluability assessment of existing AB109 funded strategies, and a planning process to develop an AB109 Realignment Strategic Plan.

Review of Other Realignment Plans: The Yolo County Public Safety Ad Hoc Committee, which includes members from the Community Corrections Partnership (CCP) and the Board of Supervisors requested that CJI conduct a brief review of other California County realignment plans created by similar or surrounding counties of Yolo. The purpose of the review was to understand the composition of the other counties' plans, including both content and structure. The Ad Hoc Committee was particularly interested in using the information to developing a multi-year realignment plan focused on strategic priorities, and an operational work plan for accomplishing identified goals and monitoring progress. In January, 2014, CJI staff reviewed realignment plans from seven counties in northern California: Colusa, Lake, Monterey, Napa, Sacramento, Solano, and Sutter.¹ These realignment plans were coded by type of strategy, department or organization receiving funding for strategy implementation, and amount of funding allocated to each department or organization. Notes were also taken on the structure of the plan and the integration of evidence-based practices within stated strategies. The results of this review are provided in a separate report.

After reviewing the initial plan review that was presented at the January 15, 2014 meeting of the Ad Hoc Committee, members requested that CJI review additional plans including Santa Cruz County, Shasta County, Contra Costa County, and Stanislaus County. They further requested CJI look at other counties outside of California to identify model plans, including Multnomah County, Oregon. CJI reviewed these additional plans, including a plan from Maricopa County, Arizona. This secondary review is provided in a subsequent report dated January 29, 2014.

Evaluability Assessment: CJI was also asked to conduct an evaluability assessment of the County's realignment strategies. The purpose of this assessment was to determine which Yolo County programs and strategies funded under AB 109 are appropriate for formal evaluation. The final report is dated June 1, 2014.

Strategic Planning Process: The third task included in this contract was to facilitate a planning process to develop a Realignment Strategic Plan, including detailed objectives and operational action steps. This report summarizes that planning process. To complete this task, CJI facilitated a series of meetings and work sessions with the County's Community Corrections Partnership (CCP), the Ad Hoc Committee, and a workgroup consisting of department staff and managers. In addition, CCP members conducted a series of public input discussions to engage community members and gather input to inform the Realignment Strategic Plan. This report summarizes the planning process and includes the final AB109 Realignment Plan.

The Planning Process

Goal Development: As part of the Yolo County's AB 109 Realignment Planning Process, CJI facilitated a series of meetings with the County's ad hoc planning committee, which included members of the CCP and additional members of the Board of Supervisors. During these meetings, participants developed a set of five, high level goals on which to focus the County's Realignment Plan.

Refining the Goals and Developing Objectives: The five goals were subsequently reviewed and refined by members of the CCP during two work sessions in March, 2014 (Appendix A). The CCP members also began development of measure objectives that met the SMART criteria, (i.e., Specific, Measurable, Attainable, Realistic, and Time-limited). In April, 2014, members of the CCP convened a series of public outreach sessions in Woodland, Davis, Winters, and West Sacramento. The purpose of these sessions was to engage community members in the plan development process, gather input on the goals, and identify potential activities to support those goals. A summary of public input sessions is provided in Appendix B. That input was then integrated into the Realignment Plan.

Developing Activities, Timelines, and Measureable Outcomes and Outputs: A workgroup of County staff and managers was convened during the months of May, June and July for a series of work sessions to take the next step in planning. Their work included identifying specific action steps that will ensure that the County achieves its goals, time lines, and measureable outcomes and outputs.

The resulting Realignment Plan is a culmination of the work of the CCP, members of the Board of Supervisors, County staff, and the community members who took the time to participate in the outreach sessions.

The Planning Framework

During the initial planning phase, the CCP and the ad hoc committee developed a framework for the planning process. That framework includes a mission statement, principles for decision-making, and the five goals.

Mission Statement

The mission of the Yolo County Community Corrections Partnership is to protect the public by holding offenders accountable and providing opportunities that support victim and community restoration, offender rehabilitation and successful reintegration.

Principles

The CCP identified a series of principles that will guide their decisions and implementation of their plan:

- Use evidence-based practices
- Integrate data into decision-making through reporting, quality improvement plans, and program evaluation
- Emphasize behavior change for criminal-justice involved individuals
- Integrate a restorative justice approach
- Focus on long lasting public safety

Goals

The CCP identified five goals which guide its work:

- Goal 1: Ensure a safe environment for all residents and visitors by reducing and preventing local crime
- Goal 2: Restore victims and the community
- Goal 3: Hold offenders accountable
- Goal 4: Build offender competency and support reintegration
- Goal 5: Reduce recidivism

Recommendations

As Yolo County moves forward with its work on implementing this AB109 Realignment Plan, CJI recommends the following.

- 1) The workgroup has identified timelines for completion of specific activities and objectives. The County might find that these timelines are overly optimistic given competing demands for time and resources. CJI recommends that the CCP take an additional step to prioritize objectives within each year of the plan's implementation schedule.
- 2) Revisit this plan on a regular basis. The CCP should assign a staff person to monitor status of all Realignment Plan objectives. The status should be reviewed at regularly meetings (no less than quarterly). This will allow the CCP to problem solve any barriers that might arise that impede completion.
- 3) This plan and the principles identified by the CCP should be used to guide decision-making, including driving budget decisions, i.e., responding to reductions in funding.
- 4) Many of the objectives developed from the agreed upon goals involve collecting, analyzing, and using data to make decisions. Enhancing the County's capacity to readily collect, analyze and report on criminal justice system data could improve the decisions being made by stakeholders and the Board of Supervisors. The County should engage in serious discussions regarding the required resource investments that would provide this much needed capacity, and the mechanism to do so, which might include a criminal justice planning position and/or an integrated data management system.

Yolo CCP: Summary of Work Sessions

Overview

The Yolo County Community Corrections Partnership (CCP) met on March 13 and March 17 to develop the framework for a strategic plan. The Crime and Justice Institute facilitated both work sessions.

Objectives

- How CCP plan connects to the larger system plans
- Revise and review the draft document from the ad hoc committee
- Finalize the mission, principles, and goals
- Begin developing an implementation plan
- Agree on process for next steps

March 13, 2014 Work Session #1:

The CCP reviewed draft documents from an ad hoc group of county representatives, editing and adjusted those statements, and agreed to the following mission statement, guiding principles, and goals.

Mission Statement

The mission of the Yolo County Community Corrections Partnership is to protect the public by holding offenders accountable and providing opportunities that support victim and community restoration, offender rehabilitation and successful reintegration.

Principles

- Use evidence-based practices
- Integrate data into decision-making through reporting, quality improvement plans, and program evaluation
- Emphasize behavior change for criminal-justice involved individuals
- Integrate a restorative justice approach
- Focus on long lasting public safety

Goals

Goal 1: Ensure a safe environment for all residents and visitors by reducing and preventing local crime

Goal 2: Restore victims and the community

Goal 4: Hold offenders accountable

Goal 4: Build offender competency and support reintegration

Goal 5: Reduce recidivism

Discussion Highlights

The CCP engaged in a lengthy discussion regarding the need to review data regarding the criminal justice population in Yolo County. Following the discussion, the CCP asked that the consultants and Yolo staff present on available data at the March 17th work session. In addition, they requested a presentation reviewing the evidence regarding effective practices for recidivism reduction.

- We need to see the updated dashboard
- Data drives objective development for the plan
- What is the time period for the plan? 3-5 years
- We need to build in evaluation and quality assurance
- This needs to be a living, breathing / working document
- The CCP decided to return for the 3/17 work session and to review available data regarding the county's criminal justice population. Specifically, the CCP requested:
 - Updated dashboard data
 - Determine what data we need to review on a regular basis
 - More information about the population assessed as high risk
 - Justice Reinvestment (JRI) data
 - An overview of the evidence
 - An overview of CCP strategies

March 17, 2014 Work Session #2

Presentations

Yolo County staff provided a review of local criminal justice data. CJI staff provided a review of evidence-based principles and how the evidence can be applied through policy and practice. In addition, CJI provided an overview of the data collected through Phase 1 of Yolo's work on the Bureau of Justice Assistance's Justice Reinvestment Initiative.

Discussion Highlights

Following the presentation of Yolo's dashboard and JRI data, the CCP discussed themes and areas in need of follow-up:

- Need to be more data driven
- The data needs to be more consistent, i.e., currently it comes from multiple sources, timelines, etc.
- Need to eliminate the "stacking" of data points
- Employment was identified as a high need for Yolo county offenders
- Property crimes have increased
- Drug charges are a major issue for the county
- It would be helpful to have the information broken out by jurisdiction
- Drugs & alcohol drive a lot of the crime. How can we strategically address this issue?
- We need to focus on data integration (probation, DA, courts, Sheriff)
- Missing data – we need offender profiles – who is reoffending?
- Continue to integrate evidence-based practices into the work of all criminal justice partners, including treatment providers.
- Need the courts to participate in the discussion
- Maintain a continuum of services from institution to the community – maintain flexibility within that continuum to respond to the changing needs of offenders
- Quality assurance – need to include evaluation of programs

Objective Development

CCP members identified a series of objectives for each of the identified goals. Those objectives are outlined in the attached CCP Objectives DRAFT.

Next Steps

CCP members identified the following next steps

- Request a presentation by the DRC at an upcoming meeting
- Conduct an analysis of referrals
- Prioritize the identified objectives, and then convene a workgroup to develop actionable steps for the objectives
- Continue the data discussion
- How do we decide what to cut if our funding is reduced?
- Input on reasonable timelines
- Develop a plan to gather community input
- CJI will provide input on and review the objectives
- Additional information needed includes personnel funded by CCP funds and how they impact public safety
- Next CCP meeting is scheduled for April 14th
- CJI will facilitate another joint meeting to review the next iteration of the plan and then the revised plan will be used to solicit community input.

Appendix B

Realignment Planning Process: Public Input Summary

As part of the Yolo County's AB 109 Realignment Planning Process, members of the County's Board of Supervisors and Community Corrections Partnership (CCP) convened a series of public outreach meetings during the week of April 7, 2014. Meetings were held in Woodland (April 7th), Davis (April 8th), Winters (April 9th), and West Sacramento (April 10th).

These public input sessions were an integral part of the County's AB109 Realignment Planning Process and were designed to gather input around five goals:

- Goal 1: Ensure a safe environment for all residents and visitors by reducing and preventing local crime
- Goal 2: Restore victims and the community
- Goal 3: Hold offenders accountable
- Goal 4: Build offender competency and support community reintegration
- Goal 5: Reduce recidivism

The input received during those sessions is summarized below.

Goal 1: Ensure a safe environment for all residents and visitors by reducing and preventing local crime

1. Programs/Services
 - a. Increase services focused on
 - i. Substance abuse treatment
 - ii. Mental health treatment
 - iii. Education, more GED capacity & adult education in jail
 - iv. Housing & halfway housing
 - v. Employment
 - vi. Increased transitional support
 - b. Increase services in West Sacramento, including treatment, housing, and a DRC
2. Accountability
 - a. Increase Electronic Monitoring Services, more devices and better charging methods
 - b. Reduce probation caseloads, by funding more probation officers
 - c. Law Enforcement
 - i. Increased funding and patrols
 - ii. Station officers at school (rotations)
 - iii. Bike patrols: around Broderick and north area
 - d. Increase neighborhood courts to increase the participation of residents/community and hold offenders accountable to the people in the their community
3. Communication with and outreach to communities
