SECTION 5: OPTIONAL QUESTIONS	Section 5 asks optional questions about evaluation, data collection, programs and services, and local best practices. There are 9 questions in this section. Responses will be used by the BSCC and its justice-system partners to better understand the needs of counties. If the CCP chooses not to answer an optional question, please respond "Decline to Respond."
15. Describe the process the CCP uses to determine potential programs and/or services for local implementation using Realignment funds.	The San Diego County Board of Supervisors accepted the San Diego County Community Corrections Partnership Plan which includes three goals: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Enhance prevention, diversion, and alternatives to custody; reserve jail for individuals posing a serious risk to public safety or sentenced for serious crimes 2. Enhance reentry interventions through transition from custody to the community 3. Provide evidence-based supervision and intervention services to reduce recidivism The San Diego County Board of Supervisors has and continues to consider recommendations for programs and services that are consistent with this plan and with these principles, which address the impact of realignment and are responsive to the changing criminal justice landscape, including new state legislation, voter initiatives, and local criminal justice conditions and priorities. The FY 2023-24 CCP plan demonstrates that San Diego County's approach to AB 109, the broader justice system, and the people impacted by it has evolved significantly since Public Safety Realignment passed. Additionally, the policy priorities expressed by the Board of Supervisors, including housing, equity, behavioral health connections, health and justice data integration, and alternatives to incarceration, are reflected in the plan. The FY 2023-24 CCP Plan provides an updated framework for San Diego County justice partners and stakeholders to plan, monitor and report on San Diego County's criminal justice system.

16. Does the county evaluate the effectiveness (as defined locally) of programs and/or services funded with its Public Safety Realignment allocation? Check the appropriate answer to the left of the list.

Yes

If "Yes," explain how. The County utilizes a performance measurement system with targeted outcomes for relevant indicators to gauge the implementation of evidence-based practices and to monitor key outcomes. The County monitors the recidivism rates and return to prison rates for the clients on Mandatory Supervision and Post Release Community Supervision as an indicator of the outcomes of programs and services provided to the realigned populations. In addition, contracted services for the realigned populations have performance indicators built into the contract pay points.

17. Does the county consider evaluation results when funding programs and/or services? Check the appropriate answer to the left of the list.

Yes

If "Yes," explain how. County service contracts include explicit direction and language to providers in the specific targets of treatment for this population and the importance of adhering to evidence-based principles and practices.

18. Does the county use BSCC definitions (average daily population, conviction, length of stay, recidivism, and/or treatment program completion rates) when collecting data? Check yes or no to the left of each BSCC Definition listed, as applicable.

<https://www.bscc.ca.gov/wp-content/uploads/AB-1050-Key-Term-Definitions.pdf>

Average Daily Population

Yes

Conviction

Yes

Length of Stay	Yes
Adult Recidivism	No
Treatment Program Completion Rates	Yes
19. What percentage of the Public Safety Realignment allocation is used for evidence-based programming (as defined locally)? Check the most appropriate answer to the left of the list of percentages.
20. The BSCC would like to better understand the county's capacity to offer mental health, substance use disorder, behavioral health treatment programs, and/or other services. What type and level of services are now available?	San Diego County partners, including the Probation Department, the Sheriff's Department, the District Attorney's Office, the Public Defender's Office, Health and Human Services Agency (HHSa), and the Superior Court, continue to closely collaborate in meeting the mental health, substance use disorder, and housing needs of individuals who are Medi-Cal eligible, including individuals with justice-involvement. HHSa's Behavioral Health Services (BHS) department offers an array of mental health and substance use disorder prevention, treatment and recovery services. Examples of these services are the Mobile Crisis Response Team which served 3,765 unique clients experiencing a behavioral health crisis during FY 2022-23 and the Recovery Bridge Center which provides a safe alternative to custody for individuals who are inebriated in public and in need of sobering services. Services such as permanent supportive housing, offered through County-operated and community-based providers, connect participants who have behavioral health conditions, including individuals with justice involvement, to ongoing behavioral health care. BHS also collaborates with the Courts, the Sheriff's Department, Probation, and other local law enforcement agencies to divert and connect individuals with behavioral health conditions and who have justice involvement into behavioral health treatment in lieu of incarceration, when possible, as they are entering or exiting detention, jails, or courts. HHSa's Medical Care Services (MCS) department supports various behavioral health initiatives including the Drug Medi-Cal Organized Delivery System (DMC-ODS) which has expanded and enhanced services for individuals with substance use conditions, including individuals with justice involvement. MCS also supports the planning and implementation of new opportunities afforded by the California Advancing and Innovating Medi-Cal (CalAIM) Justice-Involved Initiative which will further enhance efforts to improve physical and behavioral healthcare and access to supportive services for the justice-involved population, including access to Enhanced Care Management and Community Support services for those returning to the community from custody.

Other agencies provide access to behavioral health, outreach, engagement, and treatment services at various points in the justice system process. For example, the Public Defender's Office operates a Defense Transition Unit that includes licensed mental health clinicians who assess clients who have screened positive for substance use and/or mental health needs. The clinicians work in conjunction with housing navigators and substance abuse assessors to link seriously mentally ill clients to treatment at all levels of clinical care, countywide. During FY 2022-23, the Defense Transition Unit processed over 1,885 attorney referrals while participating in Behavioral Health Court, advocating for diversion motions, and educating justice partners daily concerning Behavioral Health Services program criteria.

When clients are placed on community supervision, treatment services are included in the supervision process. For example, San Diego County's Community Transition Center (CTC) addresses the mental health, substance use disorder, and other needs of clients on Post Release Community Supervision upon release from state prison. After arriving at the CTC, each PRCS client is assessed using the Reentry COMPAS assessment and screened by the Behavioral Health Screening Team. Through the assessment and screening process, the clients' criminogenic and behavioral health needs are identified. Clients are then linked to appropriate community-based treatment intervention programs as indicated by their assessed needs. The services range from strength-based mental health case management, full-service partnership/Assertive Community Treatment programs, outpatient substance use disorder programs, residential substance use disorder programs, withdrawal management programs, co-occurring programs, Cognitive Behavioral Therapy (CBT), and employment services. Clients also have immediate access to short-term interim housing provided on-site, pending placement in long-term programs. The CTC is co-located with a large residential substance use disorder treatment program that provides a culture of recovery and resiliency, as well as treatment education for those residing at the CTC. During FY 2022-23, the CTC provided over 2,989 referrals to services including residential treatment programs, mental health, CBT, and outpatient treatment programs.

21. What challenges does the county face in meeting the above program and service needs?

The San Diego region continues to struggle with the availability of affordable housing, which is a significant challenge for the justice-involved population. Housing production rates in the region have not kept pace with population growth and demand at nearly all income levels. This is particularly the case for households that fall in the extremely low-, very low-, low-, and moderate- income categories, resulting in purchase and rental prices of housing that are disproportionately high.

This issue of housing affordability contributes to other social issues such as the homelessness crisis which continues to grow. In 2023, the We All Count Annual Homeless Census identified 10,264 individuals as living on the streets or in shelters throughout San Diego County. This is an overall increase of 21% since the 2022 point in time count. Of the 5,171 who were unsheltered, 29% were 55 years of age or older. San Diego County's 55 or older population is projected to grow faster than any other age group with the number of adults age 55 or older in San Diego County projected to increase to more than 1.1 million by 2030. This data highlights the region's urgent need to accelerate the production of affordable housing, especially for vulnerable populations like seniors.

The County of San Diego's Health and Human Services Agency (HHS) leads efforts to implement strategies to address housing. HHS's Homeless Solutions and Equitable Communities (HSEC) department, which includes the Office of Homeless Solutions (OHS), is focused on building coordinated and robust services to assist people experiencing homelessness, as well as engaging in upstream, equitable prevention efforts. During FY 2022-23, the Homeless Solutions Direct Services Team worked with Human Services Specialists and Social Workers to engage with over 39,000 persons experiencing and/or at risk of experiencing homelessness countywide, connecting 1,775 individuals to housing and completing almost 5,500 self-sufficiency program applications.

OHS is leading several collaborative programs with the Public Safety Group partners, including the Public Defender and Sheriff, to engage individuals while they are in custody to begin making connections to services and developing a housing plan prior to release. The goal is to provide participants immediate housing options, connections to services on the day of their release, intensive case management, and housing assistance for up to twelve months in the community to ensure connections to services and placement into permanent housing.

OHS currently oversees three Community Care Coordination programs that serve individuals who are reentering the community from local jails and are experiencing or at-risk of experiencing homelessness: 1) the Community Care Coordination for Veterans (C3V) provides comprehensive care coordination and assistance to justice-involved veterans, 2) the Community Care Coordination Straight to Home (C3STH) program serves individuals with high needs such as behavioral and/or physical health needs, and 3) the Community Care Coordination Re-entry Support (C3RES) program which launched in February 2023 and provides intensive care coordination to individuals who have a history of mental illness or a substance use disorder, with additional complex factors such as physical health, social, income, and legal needs.

22. What programmatic changes and/or course corrections has the CPP made in the implementation of Public Safety Realignment that it believes other counties would find helpful?

The County of San Diego remains focused on supporting care coordination for justice-involved individuals through development of an integrated data infrastructure which will include development of a plan to advance data management/governance, integration, and data sharing. The improved data integration and management will support justice-involved individuals in receiving assistance and services across and among law enforcement, correctional agencies, community and health information exchanges, health plans, and providers of behavioral health, social services, and health-care.

23. Describe a local best practice or promising program that has produced positive results. If data exists to support the results, please share.	The San Diego County Sheriff's Department Reentry Services Division recently received the San Diego County Taxpayer's Golden Watchdog and Fleece award for their work in county jails helping men and women to successfully prepare for their return to our communities. The Sheriff's Reentry Services Division has more than three dozen reentry programs ranging from gardening and construction trades to culinary arts, which provide opportunities for clients to learn valuable skills. They partner with over 40 organizations that assist in connections to resources to support successful transitions to the community. Collaborations with community partners provide opportunities for clients to gain additional education, skills, and connections to services to achieve sustainable employment and self-sufficiency. Reentry programs have been demonstrated to support successful reentry and reduce the rate that clients return to incarceration while increasing public safety.
