INTRODUCTION

In 2011, the United State Supreme Court upheld a lower cord order which directed California to reduce their prison population from 190% of capacity to 137.5% of capacity. In order to fulfill the Court order and improve rehabilitative and treatment services for offenders, the California State Legislature passed Assembly Bill 109 (AB 109). This legislation realigned a significant amount of State funding that supported State prison and parole capacity for non-serious, non-violent, non-sexual offenders. The legislature believed that local jurisdictions could take this new funding and develop services that would have a great affect at lowering recidivism rates among the effected criminal population. AB 109 placed the County Community Corrections Partnerships in charge of a significant portion of this new funding and tasked local criminal justice partners with collaboratively creating a public safety realignment plan. Yolo County's local plan (2014-2019 CCP Strategic Plan) was developed and can be found at www.YoloCounty.org/CCP.

With significant changes in the criminal justice population and the availability of State funding for realignment programming since the advent of AB 109, the Yolo County Community Corrections Partnership (CCP) decided to conduct a review and revision of its 2014-2019 Strategic Plan. The purpose of the review process was to chart progress and make alterations in light of the changed criminal justice environment. A Strategic Plan for 2019-2022 was approved in February of 2019 and can be found in the following pages.

In early 2022, the CCP initiated a similar process to again update its local public safety realignment plan. Following community workshops and seven meeting devoted to development of the plan, the Draft 2023-2025 CCP Strategic Plan (also found in the pages to follow) is scheduled for consideration by the Board of Supervisors in early 2023.
