

Juvenile Justice Crime Prevention Act - Youthful Offender Block Grant
 2019 Expenditure and Data Report
 Due Date: October 1, 2019

On or before October 1, 2019, each county is required to submit to the Board of State & Community Corrections (BSCC) a report on its Juvenile Justice Crime Prevention Act (JJCPA) and Youthful Offender Block Grant (YOBG) programs during the preceding year. For JJCPA this requirement can be found at Government Code (GC) Section 30061(b)(4)(C) and for YOBG it can be found at Welfare & Institutions Code Section (WIC) 1961(c). These code sections both call for a consolidated report format that includes a description of the programs and other activities supported by JJCPA and/or YOBG funds, an accounting of all JJCPA and YOBG expenditures during the prior fiscal year, and countywide juvenile justice trend data.

Prior to submitting this report save the file using the following naming convention: "(County Name) 2019 JJCPA-YOBG Report." For example, Yuba County would name its file "Yuba 2019 JJCPA-YOBG Report".

Once the report is complete, attach the file to an email and send it to: JJCPA-YOBG@bscc.ca.gov. All reports will be posted to the BSCC website. We encourage you to review your report for accuracy before sending it to the BSCC. Please do NOT change the report form to a PDF document.

Government Code Section 30061(b)(4)(C)(iv) & WIC Section 1961(c)(3)

Provide a summary description or analysis, based on available information, of how the programs, placements, services, strategies or system enhancements funded by JJCPA-YOBG have, or may have, contributed to, or influenced, the juvenile justice data trends identified in this report.

All minors referred to the Probation Department for delinquency charges are assessed at intake using the Positive Achievement Change Tool (PACT) through Noble Software Group (NobleSG). Officers use the results to make informed decisions concerning the minor's needs and their potential risk to themselves or the community.

Probation youth and their families participate in Child Family Team (CFT) meetings; as well as; referred to the Children's System of Care (CSOC) team. CSOC and CFT meetings result in the development and/or modification of case plans for each minor that focuses on improving school attendance and academic performance, instilling positive social values and strengthening the family.

Families participating in YOBG and JJCPA funded services and activities has resulted in compliance with court orders; as well as; a reduction in recidivism and caseload sizes. The JJCPA funding of juvenile probation officers enables the effective use of graduated sanctions for youth. The JWSP program funded by YOBG has a dedicated probation aide that has been responsible for securing community service sites resulting in youth completing their court ordered community service obligations.

To ensure regular school attendance and academic success the department has provided daily transportation for youth to school and referred youth to tutoring services funded by YOBG.

San Benito County Probation Department's objective to reduce the number of high-risk youth has been achieved through a probation driven case plan approach that includes the services funded by both YOBG and JJCPA.

The Juvenile Work Service Program (JWSP) offered minors valuable skills, shared talents and knowledge, gained experience, positive relationships, and helped to make the community a better place to live. The JWSP Program consisted of opportunities for youth to perform essential volunteer work that focused on various county needs. The JWSP Program is an alternative to incarceration. Formal probation youth were supervised by a probation aide that was able to counsel and mentor the juveniles through the process of giving back to the community. Minors discussed their future goals and aspirations and the probation aide would provide a mentorship for the youth. The probation aide engaged in discussions with the minors that helped them deal with their mistakes and learn to make positive decisions in the future. There was an ongoing communication process between the probation aide and the minor's probation officer.

The probation youth participating in this program were on informal or formal probation. The Juvenile Wards of the Court were ordered to complete hours of community service and the informal youth were directed by their probation officer. The youth completed their hours by the end of their probation term.

YOBG and JJCPA funds covered the salary and benefits of a probation aide.

The Paula Norton Reading Program provided one-on-one tutoring services using the Linda Mood-Bell teaching instruction tools to both 707(b) and non-707(b) WIC offenders. This reading program has been used by the Probation Department for 16 years and has been proven through pre and post test results to have a significant improvement in minor's spelling and reading scores.

Costs covered the instructor's cost at an hourly rate.

This reading program increased the reading levels of these youth; as well as; played a large role in reducing recidivism and delinquent behaviors. Studies show a link between higher levels of literacy and a reduced risk of delinquency, incarcerations, and recidivism.

A counselor facilitated "Thinking for a Change" group sessions to youth using a positive youth development approach. During the sessions the youth learned to identify, work through, and manage negative emotions; as well as; they were able to identify the distortions that emerged from their dysfunctional thinking habits. The more painful the thoughts processed, the more painful the experience. The more unpleasant emotions always signal dysfunctional thinking. Even fear and anger might arise in response to a real and present danger signal distorted thinking, which, if entertained would result in less functional and/or perhaps catastrophic responses.

The funds were used to support one facilitator at an hourly rate. Our high-risk youth were able to see distortions that emerged from their dysfunctional thinking habits and they learned to begin to experience more mature and objective responses.

This program assisted youth with addressing risk factors that are proven through research to affect recidivism.

The Early Intervention Program (EIP) is a family-focused reduced caseload that emphasizes matching the entire family to local resources. The family-focused case planning was particularly important given the parents' demonstrated inability to adequately supervise and discipline their children. In addition, youth were immersed in valuable programs and activities at a level that facilitates competency development.

JJCPA funds covered the cost of two (2) Deputy Probation Officer's salary and benefits

Youth Alliance (YA), a community based organization, provided intensive case management; weekly individual counseling, weekly support groups, parenting classes; and referrals to services. Probation Officers and a Youth Alliance case manager used a child and family team meeting model to work collaboratively with local agencies, schools, families, and the youth which improved services and provided direction and support to these families. A youth's case plan was developed as part of the child and family team meeting. Youth referred to this organization participated in their GANAS: Guiding and Navigating to Achieve Success Program. GANAS is an aftercare program for youth transitioning from juvenile detention and custody back into the community. The GANAS Program focuses on discovery of self-awareness, prevention of substance abuse, healthy relationships, boundaries, decrease gang involvement and educational success.

This program helps guide youth through their journey to adulthood through meaningful and though provoking groups, parenting skills, and intervention services that reintroduce cultural and family values.

Approximately twenty-seven (27) youth took part in the GANAS program for the 2018/2019 fiscal year. Of those 27 participants, ten (10) completed the program completely, one (1) moved out of county, and seventeen (16) of them will continue on with services in the 2019/2020 fiscal year.
