

Juvenile Justice Crime Prevention Act - Youthful Offender Block Grant
2017 Expenditure and Data Report
Due Date: October 1, 2017

On or before October 1, 2017, each county is required to submit to the Board of State & Community Corrections (BSCC) a report on its Juvenile Justice Crime Prevention Act (JJCPA) and Youthful Offender Block Grant (YOBG) programs during the preceding year. For JJCPA this requirement can be found at Government Code (GC) Section 30061(b)(4)(C) and for YOBG it can be found at Welfare & Institutions Code Section (WIC) 1961(c). These code sections both call for a consolidated report format that includes a description of the programs and other activities supported by JJCPA and/or YOBG funds, an accounting of all JJCPA and YOBG expenditures during the prior fiscal year, and countywide juvenile justice trend data.

Prior to submitting this report save the file using the following naming convention: "(County Name) 2017 JJCPA-YOBG Report." For example, Yuba County would name its file "Yuba 2017 JJCPA-YOBG Report".

Once the report is complete, attach the file to an email and send it to: JJCPA-YOBG@bscc.ca.gov. All reports will be posted to the BSCC website following a brief technical review.

ANALYSIS OF COUNTYWIDE TREND DATA for: *Yolo

Government Code Section 30061(b)(4(C)(iv) & WIC 1961(c)(3)

Provide a summary description or analysis, based on available information, of how the programs, placements, services, strategies or system enhancements funded by JJCPA-YOBG have, or may have, contributed to, or influenced, the juvenile justice data trends identified in this report.

1. Youth were kept on pre-adjudicated supervision for a longer period of time, contributing to stronger outcomes since those youth were case managed at a lower caseload ratio as a result of 2 additional probation officer hires in the supervision unit. Over the past reporting year, the Probation Juvenile Supervision Unit has been fully staffed, including two vacant positions that previously prevented effective caseload distribution. Consequently, a 77% violation rate for the 2015-16 reporting year was reduced to 47% for during 2016-17.
2. A disproportionate amount of crime has been identified as being committed by a group of high-risk repeat offenders that have been in custody for the majority of the reporting year. The re-arrest rate of 76% went down to 39% year over year, and Probation staff believe a significant factor was the extended detention of a number of prolific youthful offenders. Another contributing factor is extended Court proceedings for transfer hearings related to Prop 57. Several prolific offenders were held in custody for longer durations while these transfer hearings were processed.
3. In addition, during this reporting period a vocational education program was launched to directly incentivize increased school attendance, reflecting a high rate of engagement of the high-risk offenders. There was a greater collaboration between Yolo's County Office of Education and Probation to resolve conflicts on school grounds rather than referring these matters through the Courts. YOBG funds supported service and treatment program expansions that contributed to reductions in school expulsions, mental health crisis, trancies and violations that directly impacted refferal activities positively. Evidence of the positive impacts these services are having can be seen in reduced re-arrest rates previously highlighted.

Community Based Supervision: Though Community Based Supervision Services continue to operate in largely the same manner during the current 2017-18 fiscal year, activities will be described in the past tense for the 2016-17 reporting period.

The goal of the program was to reduce the risk of recidivism and prevent removal from the community by providing targeted community based case management and evidence based programming. The probation officers utilized a risk/needs screening tool to identify the youth's risk and protective factors to ensure the level of supervision and services adequately matched the youth. Case planning was conducted with the youth and family, to include achievement plans outlining services, supports and opportunities in the communities where youth live. The target population was moderate-high risk probation youth. In collaboration with community based juvenile justice provider(s), interventions included: FFT, TFCBT, Cog-SBI, TBS, CBS, Wrap, or individual therapy. Through this strength based approach to case management, the POs used a system of graduated responses to reward compliant behavior and/or address non-compliance. This program allowed for intensive case management and targeted treatment plans for our moderate-high risk probation youth. It allows for capping of caseloads to meet the needs of youth and families. Depending on the level of risk, case load sizes varied. This was due to contact requirements, location of contacts and certain resource availability.

Research has shown focusing on the higher-risk offenders has the most impact on recidivism (Andres and Downden 2006). Criminal justice research has shown that combining probation monitoring with effective treatment will yield the greatest recidivism reduction. By adhering to principles of risk need responsivity with offenders, research has shown counties can create plans and allocate appropriate funding to create quality programming across a number of areas which result in better outcomes (4 Bonta, J., & Andrews, D.A. (2007)).

The targeted population were detained youth in the Yolo County Juvenile Detention Facility. Only the highest risk youth were detained in this local facility as determined by a detention risk assessment and actuarial risk/needs assessment. Further, the prevalence of trauma is historically high among this population. The funded probation officer worked with clinical services available to the Probation Department and the Juvenile Detention Facility to provide crisis intervention, assessment services, treatment planning, individual therapy using the principles of CBT strategies, collaborative case management, and assist with community re-entry planning. The clinical services assisted in the facilitation of cognitive behavioral therapy groups both in the Juvenile Detention Facility and in the community.

The duties of this officer included assisting with Child and Family Team Meetings, and facilitating assessments for the Mentally Ill Offender Crime Reduction Grant Mental Health Wraparound Services while youth were detained in the Yolo County Juvenile Detention Facility.

One of the guiding principles for risk/recidivism reduction was "target interventions" which included risk, need, responsivity, dosage and treatment. The clinician utilized these principles to address general concerns as well as establish clinical alliances with detainees in need of more extensive mental health care. CBT principles linked to recidivism reduction were employed.

Providing alternatives to incarceration for pre and post adjudicated youth is a necessity in order to avoid unnecessarily detaining youth. It is also cost effective, promotes community safety, and provides high structured supervision for those youth who can be safely maintained in the community. The Yolo County Construction Program (YCCP) supported those alternatives, including but not limited to education, vocational education, and mental health support and interventions. The probation officer assigned to this program coordinated the youth within the guidelines of the Community Based Supervision model to ensure case planning, targeting interventions and family involvement within the YCCP Program were completed. Participant numbers were targeted to 15 at any given time. This incorporated youth pending adjudication or in response to violation behaviors to build on the incentives of reduced involvement with law enforcement once programming in YCCP was completed.

Yolo County re-implemented the Yolo County Construction Program comprising school coursework, vocational education and paid pre-apprenticeship training along with targeted mental health counseling to the high risk eligible youth under Probation's supervision. In recognition of the program's successful implementation, the County Supervisors Association of California awarded Yolo County Probation a Challenge Award. This program of supervision, which has been successful in Yolo County in previous years, enabled Probation Supervision to more effectively manage the juvenile justice population in our communities without incarceration or out-of-home placement for high risk youth, to ensure public safety.

An Electronic Monitoring Program was utilized to support supervised releases of youth at high risk to reoffend. Research demonstrating long term effects of juvenile detention has pointed to negative long lasting consequences for court involved youth. Therefore in line with Juvenile Detention Alternatives Initiative (JDAI), our goal is to utilize alternatives to incarceration in order to meet the needs of the youth and the community, in a safe and structured manner without inappropriately detaining youth and impacting their development. Yolo County Probation believes utilizing appropriate resourcing and an informed and effective set of community supervision programming alternatives to custody will reduce reoffense within the high risk juvenile probation. The goal is to avoid further involvement in the adult criminal justice system for these youth as they age out.

Training was provided for professional development of staff and for support and sustainability of evidence-based programming. The goal to provide staff with the most current and up to date training needed to effectively achieve desired outcomes continues to support ongoing systemic changes within the department. The overarching goal and expected benefit of supporting probation staff in their mission is to reduce an offender's risk to reoffend while under probation supervision. Funds were used to pay for training related expenses. Training in Evidence Based Practices in relation to probation supervision will be the primary focus.

The funded supervising clinician position was not filled in FY 2016-17. However, three separate recruitments were attempted and there is currently an open recruitment for the position as of September 15, 2017. Title 15 of the California Code of Regulations requires various types of programs to be offered to youth within a juvenile detention facility. Further, specific programming designed to promote social awareness and reduce recidivism has been provided. The Probation Department is responsible for coordinating these programs, implementing evidence-based treatment programs and other related services. These activities/programs include: volunteer programs, recovery groups, AA/NA, church/faith services, GED testing, counseling services and groups, and recreational activities. All youth who come through the detention facility are eligible for services. Through detention risk screening and risk/needs assessments, only those deemed most at risk are detained in the detention facility. The supervising clinician will facilitate targeted treatment for youth.
